

"OVER THERE"

The Thrill and the Hell of the Trenches Described by an American Boy

Sergeant Alexander McClintock, of Lexington, Ky., and the Canadian Army Tells a Gripping Tale That Americans Will Read

He Tells The Facts Unadorned

Wounded, a Distinguished Conduct Medal Man, He Was Invalided Home, but He is Going "OVER THERE" Again to Fight for Uncle Sam

SIX Articles. The First Article, will run one page. The other Five Articles will Run Three or Four Columns.

We will publish one of these articles each week in The Breckenridge News beginning Wednesday, July 11th

Here Are The Stories:

No. 1 IN TRAINING

How the men are finally brought to the firing line. A description of conditions that our own boys and their parents will read eagerly.

No. 2 THE BOMB RAID

The great preparations and rehearsing for this attack.

Volunteers for the job taken behind the line where the German trenches are exactly reproduced. The days of preparation. Heretofore unwritten detail of modern trench raids. This article concludes with the men going out to their job.

No. 3 "OVER THE TOP AND GIVE 'EM HELL"

The English Tommy's battle-cry as he breaks from his trench. The bomb raid and what happened. Of sixty that started, forty-six failed to return because the Germans had prepared and mined the trench. Graphic description of Sergeant McClintock's terrible experience.

No. 4 SHIFTED TO THE SOMME

Sergeant McClintock takes part in the greatest of all battles and tells of the hell of it. "The front in Belgium was really a rest sector in comparison with it," he says. The extensive preparations of the allies for open warfare afterward abandoned because of the failure of expected developments.

No. 5 WOUNDED IN ACTION.

This article describes the terrrible fight, the dead and dying, the loss of a pal and the final falling of McClintock in No Man's Land. Simply told, it is one of the most remarkable descriptions of a battle by a participant ever put together.

No. 6 DECORATED FOR BRAVERY

Home and Uncle Sam. This concluding article of the series relates in detail how England cares for the wounded. How the king and queen came to the bed of an American boy and decorated him in a London hospital for gallantry. Interesting, intimate and amusing incidents told by and of the wounded Tommies. Trying to fight for Uncle Sam.

No. 1 of the above Stories will start Wednesday, July 11th in AMERICAN SOLDIERS ARRIVE IN FRANCE.

Several Thousand Will Soon be in the Thick of the Fight. Journey Unhindered.

The advance guard of the American soldiers who are to fight side by side with the French, the Belgians, the British, the Russians, the Italians and the Portuguese troops, has arrived in France despite the German sub-marines. The announcement of their safe arrival was received at Washington headquarters last Wednesday. The guard consists of thousands of seasoned regulars and marines and trained fighting men who have been stationed on the Mexican border.

It is stated that it is the largest troop of soldiers to have been assembled and conveyed from one place to another in so short a time with but accidents, that was ever known. In the Boer War, the British troops were safely transferred to South Africa but they did not have to pass through sub-marine zones.

The arrival of the American troop will be quite an asset to the Allies, and it is thought they will be encamped between the British and French troops as a connecting link.

They are to be fed, clothed and cared for solely by the United States. Gen. Pershing, the commander-in-chief, with his staff have been preparing for their arrival for several weeks. Camp sites have been selected, details of the final training to be given before the move to the front begins have been worked out. Regiments of the national army composed of railway workers and engineers are busy at this work.

Post-master Burleson has arranged to care for the heavy mails that will pass between the American soldiers in France and home. Rates on Army mail has been reduced to the same cost as mail between points in this country. Post-offices will be established in the fields.

Something New

THE WIZZARD.

Signor John Franco is a musical genius. His home in Newark, N. J., is filled with all sorts of musical instruments. The "Wizzard" (pronounced witz-zard-e) is the creation of his own hands. When President Hill of the Welfare Chautauquas visited him in his home, he was astonished at the ease with which the musician could perform on this difficult and unusual instrument; but when the strings were covered with a newspaper and Sig. Franco was blindfolded and still was able to render the most difficult selections, President Hill's admiration and astonishment was increased. Our Chautauqua patrons will be equally pleased when they hear Sig. Franco on the second day's program, when he will appear as a member of Lenzo's Royal Italian Band.

How To Select Foods

Housewives, interested in economy, who wish to be certain that their families are getting proper food and not too much, should ask the United States Department of Agriculture to send Farmers' Bulletin 808, "How to Select Foods—What the Body Needs."

Much food is ruined by being stored where flies or other insects or rats and mice can get at it. Much cereal food is ruined because it is not protected against weevils or other insects.

END THE WAR BY RULING THE AIR, SAYS WRIGHT

Famous Aviator and Inventor Indorses the Program of Aircraft Production Board.

When Orville and Wilbur Wright built and flew the first man carrying flying machine they believed they were making war impossible. Now, with the greatest war in history at a deadlock because of the equality of aerial equipment, a great increase in the allied aerial forces is the one way to end it, Orville Wright asserts. In indorsing the program of the aircraft production board Mr. Wright declares that "if the allies' armies are equipped with such a number of airplanes as to keep the enemy planes entirely back of the line, so that they are unable to direct gunfire or to observe the movement of the allied troops, it will be possible to end the war."

"When my brother and I built and flew the first man-carrying machine," said Mr. Wright, "we thought that we were introducing into the world an invention which would make further war practically impossible. Nevertheless the world finds itself in the greatest war in history. Neither side has been able to win on account of the part the airplane has played. Both sides know exactly what the other is doing. The two sides are apparently nearly equal in aerial equipment, and unless present conditions can be changed the war will continue for years."

"However, if the allies' armies are equipped with such a number of airplanes as to keep the enemy planes entirely back of the line, so that they are unable to direct gunfire or to observe the movement of the allied troops—in other words, if the enemy's eyes can be put out—it will be possible to end the war. This is not taking into account what might be done by bombing German sources of munition supplies, such as Essen, which is only about 150 miles behind the fighting lines. But to end the war quickly and cheaply the supremacy in the air must be so complete as to entirely blind the enemy."

"The program laid down by the aircraft production board, if carried out, will obtain this result. The business organization and manufacturing equipment of our country offer the facilities for carrying out this program, and I believe that by no other method can the war be ended with so little loss of life and property."

Mr. W. H. Hazelwood.

With out a question of a doubt, Mr. W. H. Hazelwood who is a tenant on the farm of Jas. Dean near Glen Dean, Ky., is doing his "bit" to help reduce the H. C. L.

Mr. Hazelwood with his fifteen year old son, has planted thirty acres of corn, eight acres of tobacco, two and a half acres of sugar corn and one acre of potatoes. In addition to this he has two splendid gardens in which he is cultivating twenty ridges of sweet potatoes, two hundred and twenty watermelon hills, eleven hundred cabbage plants, four hundred cucumber hills, "oodlings" of beans and three hundred and fifty tomato plants.

There will be no danger of any one who lives in walking distance of Mr. Hazelwood's garden patch, starving to death owing to the H. C. L., for surely a man who is so patriotic and energetic enough to care for such an abundant crop will help the less fortunate ones.

It goes without saying that Mr. Hazelwood is an unusual tenant and the country would be blessed if it had more like him.

RUSS ATTACK TEUTON LINE

BRITISH TAKE DEFENSES

Continue to Make Progress in Their Encirclement of Lens, Driving Germans From Strong Defense Positions
—French Hold Verdun Sector.

London, July 22.—German positions along the Stripa, on a front of eight-teen and one-half miles were stormed by Russian troops. A terrific artillery bombardment preceded the assault, which was the most extensive delivered since the Russian revolution.

The Berlin statement characterizes the artillery fire, maintained all day long, as "destructive." It says the Russian government was "constrained to yield to the pressure of the leading entente powers and part of the army induced to attack." It declared that later the Russians were forced to retire with heavy losses.

Nocturnal attacks also were delivered against the German positions on both sides of the Bezeny and near Zwyzyn. The artillery duel extended northward as far as the middle Stock-had and south as far as Stanislaw.

British troops continue to make progress in their encirclement of the French mining town of Lens. The official statement from the British headquarters reports the capture of German defenses on a half-mile front along the north bank of the Souchez river, southwest and west of Lens.

French and German troops were engaged in lively fighting west of Dead Man Hill in the Verdun sector.
The position changed hands five times and was finally abandoned on both sides. A German infantry attack on the French fort of Avocourt failed.
Surprise attacks on the Aisne and Champagne fronts also were repulsed
by the French.

The official statement issued by the French war department says:

"To the east of Cerny, notwithstanding a recrudescence of artillery bombardment, only local fighting was reported in the sector from Cerny to Ailles. An attempt of the enemy to advance at various points on this front was repulsed by our grenades.

"On the left bank of the Meuse artillery fighting continued intense in the region of Avocourt wood, Hill 304 and Dead Man Hill. An enemy attack on the Avocourt fortified position broke down under our fire.

"West of Dead Man Hill lively fighting took place around one of our advanced posts, which was lost and retaken on five different occasions and finally was abandoned by both sides.
The position was completely destroyed by artillery fire."

In a surprise attack at night Austrian troops entered Italian advanced trenches southeast of Vertolba, southeast of Gorizia, but the Austrians were driven out later by Italian reinforcements, says the official statement from the war office.

DANIELS 'FROM MISSOURI'

Declares Prices Fixed For Coal by Operators Too High.

Washington, July 2.—"The price of $3 a ton for coal at the mouth of the mine, fixed by the coal operators at their meeting here last week, does not apply to the navy department and will not apply," said Secretary Daniels. "I have been paying $2.85 a ton for coal delivered aboard ships. The operators offered me more coal at $2.95. I have tendered them $2.33 on account, and do not expect to pay that price. The federal trade commission is now investigating the cost of producing this coal.

"I am willing to pay a fair price and a liberal profit, but must know what the cost is. When I can get coal on ship for $2.85 and am now confronted with an offer of $2.95 at the mine and the operators fix a price of $3 to the public, which means $4, $5 or $6 delivered, I am from Missouri."

Convicted of "Cigar Plot."
Stockholm, July 2.—N. O. Persson of Ragunda, who attempted the murder of an old man with a "medical cigar," which proved to be loaded with dynamite, has been sentenced to ten years' imprisonment. The victim was holding the cigar in his hand when it exploded, but he was severely injured.

$10,000,000 For England.

Washington, July 2.—The treasury department has placed an additional $10,000,000 to the credit of England,
making total loans to Great Britain for war purposes of $560,000,000. This makes a total of loans to the allied countries of $1,018,000,000.
